David,

I have not received the company's response to the Board's subpoena for documents in this case, nor (despite prior assurances that this matter would be scheduled promptly) has the company stated a date upon which it will appear for deposition pursuant to the subpoena ad testificandum. I must move this investigation forward.

If I am not in receipt of 1. the company's documentary evidence and 2. a written indication that the company will appear upon a date certain to be deposed, by no later than close of business, next Thursday, March 12, I will move the District Court of New Jersey to enforce the subpoenas and assess the associated attorney fees and costs against the respondent.

Best,
